GETTING IN SOME ICE TIME - The jacks weren't biting on a sunny and warm Sunday morning at Stoney Lake, but a good crowd of ice fishing enthusiasts were out trying their luck, and some were lucky enough to pull out a good catch of perch - a nice change after all that turkey.

20th Oilmen's Bonspiel will be biggest, best ever

Elk Point Oilmen's Bonspiel committee chair Leonard Gadowski is looking forward to the biggest and best Oilmen's Bonspiel in the 20 year history of the event.

"We've had 48 rinks confirmed and paid for for over a month," Gadowski said. "When was the last time we had a 48-rink bonspiel in Elk Point?"

Gadowski and fellow committee members Dallan Wandler, Terry Gusnowski, Bryce Lorenson, Don Mudryk and Clark Sittler have been knee-deep in preparations for the massive 'spiel for more than two months, and have been meeting weekly to hammer out the long list of details.

This year's bonspiel starts on Wednesday, January 29 with the first draw at 7:30 p.m. "After that, it's 7:00 a.m. until after midnight through Thursday and Friday, with the only break on Saturday night for the banquet," Gadowski said, adding that he expects "in excess of 400 people" for the banquet at the Elks Hall.

A very special part of the banquet will be the presentation of Elk Point's first-ever Oilman of the Year award, which Gadowski says will become an annual event. "There are so many people out there deserving of this award that it is hard to pick one winner."

Entertainment is also planned for Friday night, for curlers and their invited guests only, with a comedian and disc jockey on hand to keep things hopping from 8:00 p.m. to closing time.

Keeping safety in mind, the bonspiel organizers have arranged to have the Elks Courtesy Van available from Wednesday evening through Sunday, and are encouraging participants to make use of this amenity.

Another highlight of the weekend is the "Draw to the Button" competition, when the bonspiel's most skillful curlers will try their hand at landing dead centre on the button to win an additional prize.

Council looking for more revenue in '03

Elk Point Town Council spent December 31 adding the final touches to their 2003 operating budget, completing it just before the year-end deadline.

Increased costs to supply the community with water, sewer service and garbage collection "definitely hurt" the Town's bottom line, according to Town manager Myron Goyan, who is doing an analysis on the effects of raising utility rates to cover the costs.

Garbage costs will continue to inch upwards with the establishment of a regional landfill, but the Town hopes to decrease the total amount of garbage by increasing the emphasis on recycling.

Another blow to the budget is the loss of close to $20,000 in taxes on the former Pan Canadian Petroleum building, which as the Northern Lights Library System headquarters, is exempt from taxation.

Still, Goyan says, the budget "doesn't look too bad," although "there's not much in it for capital expenditure." The operating budget was approved with provision for increases on the revenue side.

The Town's 2003 capital budget is still in the works. A new Town fire truck is badly needed, with the current truck needing extensive repairs as well as facing an annual $5000 bill for certification because it is over 15 years old. New fire trucks are in the $240,000 price range.

Good fiscal management plus timely grant funding has allowed the Town to hold the line on taxes in the past few years, despite spending $300,000 on a new sewage lagoon, $200,000 on water treatment plant upgrading, close to $750,000 on downtown revitalization with sidewalks and paving, and $300,000 on paving in the northern area of town.

Town building permits increase in 2002

Building permits issued by the Town of Elk Point started a gradual climb in 2002, after bottoming out of a two year slide in 2001. Nine permits for construction totalling $543,000 in value were issued in the past year, including three for new homes.

Permits peaked in 1997, with a whopping 54 projects valued at $4,920,400, over four times the total of 1996, when 15 permits had a total value of $1,221,500. In 1998, it was back to 15 permits, but the value slid to under a tenth of the previous year, totalling $449,000. In 1999, only 11 permits were issued, but the total value was up to $1,827,500. The new century saw 13 permits issued for a total value of $755,000, while in 2001, only eight permits were issued for projects valued at $349,000.

Gadowski said the response to the Oilmen's canvass for prizes and donations has been "overwhelming. We've got everything from trips to the Coast to a $1000 bill." Longtime event sponsors, Shamrock Valley Enterprises, Tarsands, BMW, B & R Eckels, are back on board, with CCS again sponsoring the "highway" event for first team out. Two oilfield companies are sponsoring a free breakfast at the rink for all the curlers, and two more the wine for the banquet. "We are very, very happy with the response we've gotten for sponsorship."

The increase in rinks from 32 last year to 48 this year is no real surprise to Gadowski. In addition to this being the 20th anniversary Oilmen's spiel, there is "a resurgence of curling in Elk Point this year. We have 16 teams in league curling, and there are a lot of kids coming out." Spectators are also welcome, and Gadowski says the Oilmen's will offer some great action for curling fans to enjoy.

community NEWS*Bad weather hits Mannville with Avalanche, Thunder

The weatherman forecasted a chance of freezing rain, it didn't rain, but nothing could prepare Mannville for weather like this, very bad weather, inside the arena. First they were hit by an Avalanche, then came the Thunder. It was a twin bill in Mannville last Friday night, the Avalanche playing first, followed right after by the Thunder.

The Atom Avalanche showed the Thunder how it's done in the early game, winning by a 7 to 4 score. Four goals for 'the Big M' Mike Marianchuk, two for Kameron Ballas and a single for 'in your face' Dylan Loughran. Some big glove saves for 'the puck stops here' Brendan Bishop.

Most of the little guys staying to cheer them on, the Midget Thunder were up next and almost won the game, with a one goal lead into the third period when with only 25 seconds left, Mannville tied the game. Not bad at all, if you remember the last time the Thunder played Mannville, they lost 8 to zip. Jesse Kozicky scored both goals for the Thunder. Coach 'Rotten Ronnie' Croteau was really pleased. "The boys gave a really good effort tonight, they worked hard and did exactly what they were told to do."

On Saturday at the Dome, it was Lac La Biche in town to play the Avalanche in their first meeting of the season, the Avalanche gaining two more points when they doubled Lac La Biche 8 to 4. Talented skater and slick stick handler, Kameron Ballas with a goal and a lovely set up on Ken Stanley Jr.'s first of two goals, big Mike Marianchuk and Chad Nauss also with two each, and 'Dirty Harry' Harrison Maas getting a single and taking some time off in the sin bin. Brendan Bishop, Myles Yarmuch, Dylan Loughran and Jordyn Wozniak all with assists. Holding the line of defense, Quillan Lowry showed us some excellent skating and stick work also, and 'The Big E' Eric Kubinchak doing another great job protecting the cage this week.

Coaches will tell you, "Shoot, shoot the puck!" Well, coach George Hah, could never criticize his team for not shooting the puck, they took over 50 shots on goal Saturday afternoon at the Dome, the Midget Girls Storm winning over Wainwright 7 to 2, Eryl Anton Roberts and Kristen Ballas with 2 goals each, Catherine Campbell, Brittany Ballas and Karly Shankowski all scoring. Elyse Anton Roberts, Kelsey Slywka and Amanda Marianchuk assisting.

Sometimes winning big in one game can backfire on you. Look what happened to Mannville after they creamed the Thunder; the Thunder came out with a much better effort the second time and the game ended in a 2-all tie. The same can hold true when you win big. The last time they met, the Thunder waxed Glendon 11 to 0. The Thunder traveled to the Perogy Capital on Saturday, taking an early 5 to 0 win, then thinking this was going to be another cake walk, the Thunder took time off, each player forgot to do their assignments, and found themselves only winning 7 to 5 after 40 minutes. Luckily, after a brutal second period, the Thunder redeemed themselves again, the final in this one 10 to 5. Jesse Kozicky with a hat trick, team captain and set up man Jason Kalynchuk with a goal and five assists, Robert Goldsmith with two, Greg 'Brick House' Kozicky, Nicky 'Sniper' Myshaniuk, Scott 'The Tank' Dallaire, and bantam aged player Tyler Loughran all scoring.

This coming weekend, Friday night at 8p.m., Lloydminster is in town to battle the Thunder, then all day Saturday and Sunday the Novice Hurricanes will be hosting a eight team tournament, come down check out the raffle table, spend a few bucks and see these little guys in action And also this week, tonight in fact, it is the monthly meeting of the A.G. Ross Operating Committee, 7.30 p.m. in the Horizon Room, everyone is welcome as always.

And now it's time to play the K. A. Campbell trivia question. What N.H.L. team with 25 wins and 10 ties hold the longest unbeaten streak? Last week's answer to: "In the sixties this Hall of Famer wore No. 7, No. 16 and then No. 9. Who is he?" Bobby Hull. Do you have any sport scoops for me? A look back at the news and newsmakers of 2002

This week, we continue our review of the news that made the headlines in 2002, starting right after Kirsty Lindquist was named Top All-Around Student at F. G. Miller High School's Awards Night on September 30.

THE HON. GENE ZWOZDESKY enjoyed his tour of Fort George and Buckingham House historic site.

October

Chamber of Commerce president Glenn Harms said business was "alive and well in Elk Point. There are great success stories unfolding..." The new signs were up at Elk Point Fire Hall No. 1 just in time for Fire Prevention Week. The week itself featured demonstrations of vehicle extrication skills and fighting petroleum blazes... Elk Point RCMP announced their intention to crack down on impaired drivers.

Minister of Community Development Gene Zwozdesky and Minister of Sustainable Resource Development Mike Cardinal were honored guests at the Ministers' Fur Trade Ball hosted by the Friends of the Forts. The Hon. Mr. Zwozdesky pledged his support for future operation and improvements at Fort George and Buckingham House Historic Site... Town Council agreed to forego temporary measures and build a permanent outdoor skating rink north of the A. G. Ross Arena parking lot... The Chamber had an overwhelming response to a petition they distributed asking for retention of the current health care services in Elk Point.

County Council approved a tender for a new County fire truck to be located in Elk Point, replacing the aging current unit... Savings and safety were the keynotes of an ATCO open house in Elk Point... Elk Point Co-op hosted pre-Halloween fun at their second annual Pumpkin Carving Contest.

Lakeland Regional Health Authority board chair Ernie Isley and MLAs in the LRHA area were "blindsided" by the release of a report giving them a 30-day ultimatum to present a "reasonable" business plan... Town Council reorganized for the coming year, with a vacancy on several committees due to the resignation of Dwayne Vogel, who was moving to the rural area.

A NEW GENERATION took up the torch of remembrance at Elk Point Elementary School.

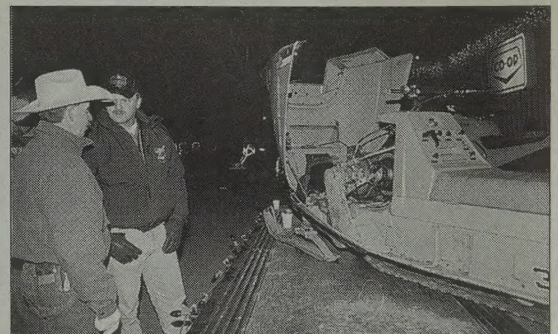

November

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club kicked off National 4-H Week with their annual beef and heifer project weigh day... The Chamber was offered use of office space in the Servus Credit Union building... The Pioneer Circle, whose activities had come to an abrupt halt after the Seniors' Centre fire, resumed bingos and dances in their temporary home at Northern Lights Library System headquarters... A new generation took up the torch of remembrance at Elk Point Elementary, with students from ECS to Grade 6 taking part in the school's annual Remembrance Day ceremonies. F. G. Miller High also hosted a ceremony honoring the nation's military heroes past and present.

Remembrance Day was marked with a brief but well-attended cenotaph service... Two candidates threw their hats in the ring to replace Dwayne Vogel on Town Council... Both Elk Point schools joined local churches in shipping a large load of stuffed-to-the-brim shoeboxes to Operation Christmas Child... Daylan Hoffman won provincial gold and bronze medals at the Provincial Figure Skating Championships in Lethbridge.

Charges were laid against the car's driver after an oil tanker swerved to avoid a car making a wide turn out of an intersection near Whitney Lake. The truck rolled, causing fatal injuries to the driver... A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee announced plans to host a trade show in April 2003... The Chamber's Christmas Extravaganza, starting with a brightly lit Winter Wonderland Parade and winding down five hours later with a spectacular fireworks display, was the best ever, kicking off the festive season in grand style.

AN ANTIQUE SNOWMOBILE was among the attractions at Elk Point's Christmas Extravaganza.

December

The Pioneer Circle brought the holidays a little closer with a well attended Christmas party at Elk Point Elementary School... A survey of draw slips from Extravaganza showed the most shoppers came from Elk Point, Frog Lake, Fishing Lake, Heinsburg, St. Paul, Derwent, Clandonald and Marwayne... The RCMP retrieved two stolen snowmobiles before they even made it out of town, thanks to a routine traffic stop... The Chamber sought better relationships with oil companies and the County of St. Paul.

The weeks before Christmas were filled with concerts at churches and schools, including the Community Choir's annual performance, this time featuring their very own concert band... Town Council approved wage hikes for firefighters... Alvina Schuhmacher got the nod from 203 local voters to fill the vacant Council chair... Marlyne Kryvenchuk retired after 30 years in the office at Elk Point Elementary School.

The year ended with a brunch at the high school, bright lights showing Santa the way to town, and turkey in practically every oven as the community celebrated Christmas with family and friends before sitting down to contemplate their New Year's resolutions.

community NEWS*Get set to celebrate Malanka!

Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club is fine tuning their talent at their final practices this week in preparation for this year's glorious celebration of the Ukrainian New Year, Malanka 2003.

This evening of traditional feasting, entertainment and dancing goes Saturday, January 18 in the Elk Point Elementary School gym.

Entertainment by the Dance Club members will include a mini concert of the dances they are learning this year, followed by their portrayal of the timeless story of Malanka, the young girl who brings spring to every heart, and her adventures with a huge cast of characters, both animal and human.

The evening will wind up with a dance to the music of the Eddie Chwil Band from Edmonton.

Tickets for Malanka 2003 are now available from Elk Point Insurance and Realty and from Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club members.

CRIME STOPPERS

By Cst. Dalyn Orsten

Elk Point RCMP

On January 4, 2003 Elk Point RCMP received the following complaints and are requesting public assistance in locating the responsible persons.

■ A 1979 gold Ford pickup truck was parked on the south side of Railway Avenue south of the Iron Horse Hotel in Elk Point when another vehicle backed into the driver's side door. The offending driver failed to notify the owner of the pickup or the RCMP of the collision.

■ Earlier in the evening, unknown persons attempted to break and enter a summer cottage in the Laurier Lake area. Neighbors responded to an alarm from the residence and heard a quad and a snowmobile in the area. Entry to the residence was not gained and police believe that the suspects were scared away by the alarm and the quick response of the neighbors.

Please be watchful of your property and ensure that buildings are locked and all ATVs and valuables are not in view from any roadway and are properly secured to prevent any thefts. If you notice suspicious activity, please contact your local RCMP.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $2000 for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) responsible for this or any other crime. You do not have to reveal your name and if your tip leads to an arrest, you may qualify for an award.

Prediction: onward and upward

IT JUST GOES TO SHOW: Anything can - and sometimes does - happen, if you wait long enough.

Last year, so much was accomplished that we did not predict and really doubted would or could happen - the tourist booth, subject of years of off-and-on debate, got moved; the Highway 646 hill eastward out of the Lindbergh valley was changed by its relocation from a nightmare to a dream; the Christmas Extravaganza went from so-so to spectacular. Even the infamous hole along the highway got filled in.

We're on a roll, folks, and what we're predicting for 2003 is 'Onward and Upward.'

With a success like Extravaganza under their belts, we predict the go-getters who make up the Chamber of Commerce executive will steer the community to a new and improved way to celebrate Canada Day — even if our celebrations already are among the best in northeast Alberta.

The spirit of enthusiastic involvement and cooperation that made Extravaganza so successful is sure to be caught by the Arena Operating Committee, as they prepare for their trade fair in April, and the Agricultural Society Fair Board, as they plan for their annual bench show. The Elk Point Oilmen's Association, with two 20th anniversary events - their bonspiel and their golf tournament - will make us all sit up and take notice with their skill at running a successful event, and Elk Point Emergency Services will top $20,000 with the income from their 2003 S.T.A.R.S. Golf Tournament, thanks to unprecedented community involvement.

With the long-bemoaned Lindbergh hill now just a memory, we predict that the rough and rocky westernmost stretch of the Moose Hills Road will soon be as pleasant to drive on as its eastern end.

And don't forget the tourist booth - it could be on the move again, or at least the services it offers could be, maybe not this year, but soon - if everything comes together and Elk Point is once again the proud possessor of a train station. Keep your fingers crossed!

■ Looking Back

A village on the bank of the North Saskatchewan

In celebration of Heinsburg's 75th anniversary this year

There's a village in Alberta northeast of Edmonton,
Built on the banks of the North Saskatchewan;
1928 is a long time ago,
Heinsburg, a village, started to grow.

The beauty of the river always running high,
A crossing there by ferry from the other side;
In the years of horse and wagon and Model T Ford
Heinsburg the village we all could afford.

The railway trains from Edmonton was as far as they could go,
The passengers would love the ride to the city
grow;
Returning to the village they loved so very well, Heinsburg their village with peace and good will.

Through many years of hardships some will never know,
Your great loving kinfolk helped Heinsburg to grow;
There were friendly stores to serve you as nay
big town,
And grain elevators for the farmers all around.

The children of this village loved to meet the train,
With the lonesome whistle blowing coming round the bend;
They would see the black smoke rolling up into the sky,
Coming to Heinsburg, the end of the line.

This village of Alberta was doing very well,
A resting place to serve you the Heinsburg Hotel;
The friendly and loving people living all around,
They were always glad to meet you and never let you down.

There were blacksmith shops and grocery stores, cafe and hardware too,
A billiard hall with barber shop, a theatre to go to;
Dancing was another way for people to have fun,

Fifty years ago today, Heinsburg had begun.
Many, many happy years for Heinsburg, and times were very good,
A community surrounding, gathering as they should;
Never dreaming of tomorrow, and the changing of time,
Heinsburg the village at the end of the line.

Sorrow to this village came to them one day,
Lurking in the shadows when everyone was free;
Danger of fire they knew so very well,
Burned to the ground was the Heinsburg Hotel.

Destroyed by the fire was store and garage to go,
Why this had to happen we will never know;
Heinsburg the village was doing very well,
Many have left this village, but some will never sell.

Across the North Saskatchewan, a ferry is no more,
A modern way to travel o'er the bridge shore to shore;
Coming to Heinsburg, two stores to serve you well,
Heinsburg the village of peace and good will.

The modern ways of today, have changed the world of time,
Passenger trains have stopped their run for another kind;
Faithful hearts still live there, Heinsburg carries on,
Celebrating 50 years when Heinsburg has begun.

School buses bringing children from miles and miles around,
A modern school to teach them, as any big town;
Heinsburg the village it still carries on,
Built on the banks of the North Saskatchewan.

Chorus:
So let us celebrate the many 50 years of time,
And with all of the people around;
It's an anniversary day, it's time to celebrate,
For Heinsburg the village, at the end of the line.

Emotional housecleaning time

This is the first Tuesday in 2003. How did you all do with your New Year's resolutions? When you made these resolutions, did you look at it as doing your "emotional housecleaning"? Yes, I know, it probably was a silly analogy. But when you think about spring cleaning, for example, it becomes the time of year when one gets energized. Right? In making New Year's resolutions, we usually say such things as: "In 2003 I will do such and such." These statements are usually made because we want to get rid of something we didn't like about ourselves and have decided to make an improvement in that area. We become energized to make changes in our lives. Thus we are doing some emotional housecleaning.

After making your resolutions, if you want to succeed, you will need to develop memory loss. What I mean is, if you want your New Year's resolutions to work, you need to keep trying to make them work and forget about all the times and reasons why they didn't work in the past. Memory loss then becomes the first step in making a change.

The second step would be to keep your balance. That is, keep your eyes on the goal. Don't let anyone or anything discourage you. What usually happens is that someone may tease us, offend us or just plain be unkind to us. The challenge then becomes - do we resent, become bitter or hold a grudge? We could choose to use any of those emotions. When we do, all this we are doing is letting those emotions "canker our soul" or we let it become a "scab that keeps bleeding". No matter how uncomfortable we may feel, we can't, or rather won't, let it go. We pick at it, and it keeps bleeding. Now if we do this we won't be able to keep our New Year's resolutions because we will have lost our balance and we wouldn't be keeping our eyes on our goal. So just say: "Go away with you - all you negative influences. I am going to succeed in this goal. I can do it!" ... After you are back in balance, the third step would be: "Just do it!" Keep those New Year's resolutions.

So after all the struggle with trying to keep your New Year's resolutions, are you one of those who will probably just say: "Oh, I thought it was a good idea at the time! And... after much thought and evaluation I have decided it wasn't a good idea after all." So goodbye, New Year's resolutions.

Did you miss keeping your resolution by "that much"? Look at it this way, did you know that after the Titanic was launched, but before it left on its maiden voyage in 1912, one of the ship's lookouts reported that two pairs of binoculars - used by the deck crew to spot icebergs - were missing? He put in a request for a new pair, but the request was denied. So the deck crew kept watch for icebergs with their naked eyes. In April 1912, the Titanic struck an iceberg and sank, drowning more than 1500 people. Lookout Frederick Fleet, one of only 705 survivors, told investigators that the binoculars would have allowed the crew to see the iceberg in time to avoid it.... The moral of the story would be, when doing your emotional housekeeping, keep a pair of binoculars on hand and don't let the icebergs stop you from keeping your New Year's resolutions. ... Hope you all had fun reading this, and good luck, everyone, with keeping your New Year's resolutions.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

Need help with those New Year's resolutions for 2003?

By Sandy Bullock
Elk Point Public Library

It is a New Year, like all the rest, we feel the resolve to make those resolutions and hope that we actually make them stick for a week or so. Believe it or not, but making New Year's resolutions is not a new thing. People have been doing this for thousands of years, and they have been breaking them for just as long. It is also interesting to find that our resolutions are pretty consistent to what they were the previous year. They are those pesky resolutions we all make such as lose weight and exercise more, quit smoking, live a healthier lifestyle, become organized, be a better person and save or make more money. It happens that as the year progresses, we get a gnawing sense of guilt as we realize that we failed our resolutions. So how do we actually keep those resolutions we make?

1. Work on one resolution at a time. Making a list of 50 things you want to change is a good start, but it makes avoiding them that much easier. If you tackle one item on the list at a time it will be easier to actually fulfil your resolutions.

2. Word your resolutions carefully. The wording of your list of changes can even damper whether or not you will actually succeed in fulfilling your resolutions. By wording it properly without adding unwanted ideas you change your outlook on the idea.

3. Make a plan. Look for ways that you can go about tackling your goals. That will give you a game plan that gives you an idea of what you need to do. You might want to do some research, ask a specialist, search the web or read up on your goals. If your plan does not succeed, then make a backup plan that you can try.

4. Write it down. It is not as easy to forget something if you write it down somewhere that you will see frequently. That way you will stick to your goals better. Find someplace that you are frequently at where you can see it more often. It does not have to be a note, it could be a picture or something to remind you. For example, if you want to lose weight, post up pictures of overweight people on the fridge to remind you to keep from snacking.

Here at the library we have many new books on dieting, exercising, healthy living, better money management, stop smoking and more. It might help you keep those resolutions that much more if you read up on them. You never know - this may be the year that making New Year's resolutions actually works!

Irene Magnusson celebrates 85 years

Longtime Elk Point Review contributor Irene Magnusson was joined by numerous friends and relatives, some from as far away as Fairview, for an early celebration of her 85th birthday.

The group gathered on Sunday at Heritage Lodge, joining in to enjoy her birthday cake and providing some of Mrs. Magnusson's favorite music, reminiscences and a poem or two, which added to the festivities.

Mrs. Magnusson's "Alberta Trails" were for many years a Review and St. Paul Journal feature. She still contributes an occasional story to delight our readers.

FOUR GENERATIONS were on hand for Irene Magnusson's 85th birthday celebration at Heritage Lodge on Sunday, including son Melvin (far left), daughter Lyn (third from right) and members of their families.

IN MEMORIAM

BODNAR, John

It's been fourteen years since you left us. We, your family, miss you lots, and will never forget the happiness you brought to our lives, and the memories you have given us.

The sudden way you had to leave we shall always remember and wonder why. To know we never said goodbye, The things we feel so deeply are the hardest things to say; but we, your family, love you in a very special way; They say that memories are golden; Well that may be true. But we never wanted memories, we only wanted you. If tears could build a stairway, and heartaches make a lane We, as your family, would walk the path to heaven and bring you home again.

Sadly missed - Love Mom and Family.

FIVE IRENES - Iryne Buck, Irene Melin, Irene Lindquist and Irene Miller were on hand to help Irene Magnusson (centre) celebrate her birthday.
